Legacy of the Past . . .

'There is little that is more important for an American citizen to know than the history and traditions of his country. Without such knowledge, he stands uncertain and defenseless before the world, knowing neither where he has come from, nor where he is going.'
JOHN F. KENNEDY

. . . Vision of the Future

Basing our achievement on the Legacy that has been established in the Past, we reach out to one another, discover our identity, gain a sense of pride in belonging, compete to excel — look for chances to succeed. We set our Visions of the Future, moving at our own pace until we eventually reach the top and look out across the new horizon.

'Dragons Bring You The Spirit of America' theme of Homecoming

Homecoming featured the spirited theme, 'Dragons Bring You the Spirit of America' for the Bicentennial Year.

Homecoming queen, Marianne Shoaf, was crowned by last year's queen, Beverly Yarborough; and her maids of honor, Janet Isham and Kim Sink, were recognized.

Jeff Leonard won the 'Miss America' contest; Mrs. Ellen Miller, best costume; Debbie Langley, most sucker sticks; Senior class, spirit contest.

TOP: Cheerleaders, Susie Springer and Marie Walser, try on spirit hats sold during Homecoming week that were worn by many of the students to the game on Friday night.

Math problems illustrated in space, geometric patterns

Advanced Math returned under the instruction of Mr. Elbert Cabbell, with a study of lines, trigonometry and algebra of vectors.

Math I centered on basic skills. Consumer education was taught in Mrs. Ann Ryalls' Math II.

Algebra I and II students were concerned with the fundamentals of Algebra and how to apply them to daily life. For extra credit in Mrs. Ann Sink's class, complex space patterns were made to hang in rooms.

TOP: Jody Shoaf, Mitchell Swicegood, and Chris Poole display thread art to illustrate math.

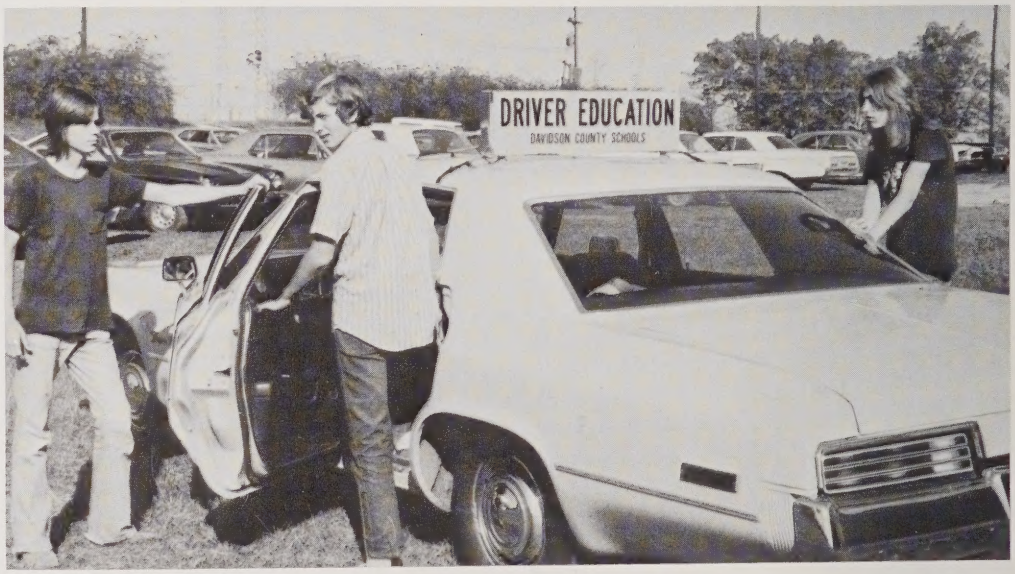
Driver Ed. of high-interest

Driver education began with thirty-six hours of classroom work after school. Films and open discussions made students realize the responsibilities and road safety requirements for driving a car. Class study was concluded with a written exam. After eighteen hours of road work, each was presented with a certificate which entitled him to try for his license.



TOP: Mr. Kenneth Sink gives driver certificates to Rene Poag, Terry Shoaf, and Greg Nard on the final day of classwork.

ICT class teaches trades; IIE, an industrial preview

Approximately twenty-four Juniors and Seniors enrolled in the morning ICT class.

They were excused to work in a trade or an industry in the afternoon after finding work with the help of Mr. Bill Hunt, who visited them and their employer on the job. To get credit for the course, they had to assume the responsibility of a dependable employee.

Freshmen in IIE did bricklaying, shopwork, plumbing, drafting, and worked with small engines. They kept the stadium and grounds in condition.

Organizations

Twenty-five clubs — opportunities to develop personal interests, responsibility; projects to serve the community, the school, the students; activities to expand the curriculum — a place of fun and knowledge for everyone

Student Council officers are Wilma McMahan, Vice-President; Mandy Owen, Secretary; Joni Potts, Treasurer; Terry Bailey, President.

Student Council gets entire school involved;

Sponsoring car washes, school dances, and bake sales kept each member of the Student Council busy. One committee revised the Constitution, and the Human Relations Committee sponsored a feature movie, 'The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman'.

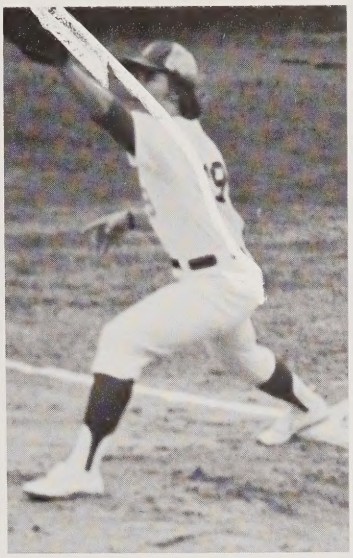
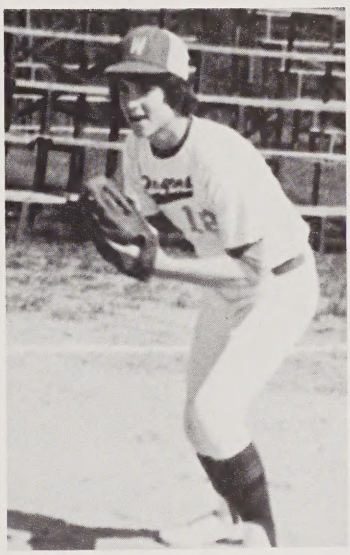
Young baseball team makes itself known to opponents





Dragons fielded a young baseball team in 1975. Five of the nine starters in baseball were underclassmen.

Led by Captains Mike Parks, Robert Grooms, and Ricky Springer, the team was coached by Mr. Bill Hunt, assisted by Mr. Wendle Harvey.

Humor entered the game with Randleman when Dale Snider helped a ball over the fence as it hit his glove. Luck was on Dale's side when he scored an 'inside the park' homerun against Southern Guilford with a ball lost in the weeds.

Dragon's realized a major setback in the protest game against Southern Guilford, but they pulled together for two last wins against Allen Jay and S.W. Randolph Valuable player, Mike Parks, and Best Hitter, Bill Butts, were names other teams recognized. Randy Troublefield shared pitching honors with Phil Poole. By the end of the season, Jody Shoaf became Best Defense player.

Key players spark Dragon momentum for improvement

Underclassmen, with the leadership of three Seniors, established a new brand of basketball. With the height to play a good inside game and high percentage shooting from the outside, Dragons produced thrilling victories and made close games when picked as the underdogs. Senior Phil Poole was leading rebounder and ranked among the top scorers in the history of West. In the exciting game against East, the victory margin of twenty-two points was the largest conference spread in many years. Every player scored except one, with four in double figures.

Individuals

Students from the community make the school small enough for everyone to get to know each other, yet large enough to comprise a unique group, one that is constantly changing with new faces coming and going

Becky Yarbrough and Steve Allred are at the School marker.

Freshmen find new friends

Freshmen . . . one hundred and seventy-eight, invaded the halls of West for an exciting year of meeting new teachers and making friends.

They were able to join various clubs and participate in J.V. teams preparing for varsity play. Science, Math, English and P.E. made up a busy daily schedule.

This group made an impact — the largest freshman class to enter West Davidson.

Talking in front of the school are the Freshman Class officers Belinda Livengood, vice-president; Connie Jacobs, secretary; Beth Koontz, treasurer; Tobin Shepherd, president.

Sophomores gain initiative

No longer the babies of the school, yet stuck in the middle between upperclassmen, Sophomores became more active in clubs, athletics, and extracurricular activities.

They were kept busy with new subjects such as French, World Cultures, and Biology.

Anticipating sixteenth birthdays and driver's licenses, the spirited Sophomore class was an enthusiastic group.

Stephen Shoaf, vice-president; Rene Poag, secretary; Janet Myers, treasurer; and Charles Elmore, president, the Sophomore Class officers, are at the flag circle.

Classrings, term papers, labs occupy Juniors

Busy with many activities, the class of '77 ordered classrings, dreaded PSAT, and sold more magazines than any class in the history of the school. Much time was spent planning a memorable Junior-Senior Prom.

Juniors played on varsity teams, built a second-place Homecoming float, and learned to accept their greater responsibilities. They became involved with English term papers, geometry, chemistry labs, and history projects.

Juniors take state sales championship

Juniors sold a total of $7,773.00 of magazine subscriptions, more per person than students in any other school in the state. High salesman was Becky Thompson, who received a portable 12 inch television set. Second and third place winners were Pam Parker and Lattie Goodman. Homeroom prize went to Mrs. Carolyn Stiffel's room. At a coke party, names were drawn for additional prizes for those selling at least twenty subscriptions during the campaign.

Senior class officers point way to Individual seniors who represented a variety of interests and goals came together to weld a strong bond. Their last year of school at West was spent ordering caps and gowns, sending college applications, and working at jobs. Seniors upheld the spirit of tradition; met challenges in academics and sports, and worked hard to keep West number one. Tomorrow held their dreams; today the reality of now.

Officers are Ben Oliver, vice-president; Laura Hanes, co-treasurer; Pam Voyles, Secretary; W.T. Tester, co-treasurer; Brian Wingler, president.

Working together, seniors win blue

Seniors worked together to create a Homecoming float that won first place, using the theme, 'Dragons want YOU for a victory'. They left the pep rally with strained voices after yelling at the top of their lungs to win the Spirit Award for the fourth year.

Senior football players participated in the 'Miss America' contest, won by Jeff Leonard. They sponsored a girl for the Homecoming Court that was introduced to the students before the queen was elected.

PTSA, Boosters support athletics, band, school needs

Athletic Boosters painted the stadium and the scoreboard and constructed a ticket office. In a fund drive the winner received a new car. Money earned by Band boosters at the concession stands paid for new band instruments, music stands, storage cabinets, and flags. New uniforms were provided for the Flag Girls. At the first meeting of the PTSA, memberships were taken, officers elected, and a reception held. Money made at a talent show and chicken pie supper was used for the new bus and the video tape machine.

Man is challenged today to excel in almost every endeavor . . . those who do succeed often trace the beginnings of their performance pattern to accomplishment in high school and to those who offered stimulation and inspiration in these formative years. Josten's has long been a partner to these educational leaders in providing a means of motivation and the rewards of recognition, and Josten's products have become tangible symbols honoring perseverance and achievement.

The class ring is representative of the fine traditions of school spirit and unity — The yearbook provides a lasting memento of the year's accomplishments — The diploma is a lifelong record of scholastic success — The graduation announcement heralds this achievement — Awards recognize academic and athletic leadership.

More than 3,000 Josten's employees are dedicated to your complete satisfaction. Serving you locally:

The world is full of newcomers in every field of business. A newcomer to the field of music and stage performance is Jerry Adams, who has been singing since childhood. He is well experienced in music and stage.

Jerry would like to fulfill a lifelong dream, to become an actor and be in motion pictures. Jerry's goal is to help the needy ones and to bring the world easy living and love for everyone through his music.

This summer Jerry will be leaving for California or New York to seek entertainment gold. "It's a long hard road," Jerry says, "but I'll make it with the help of others."

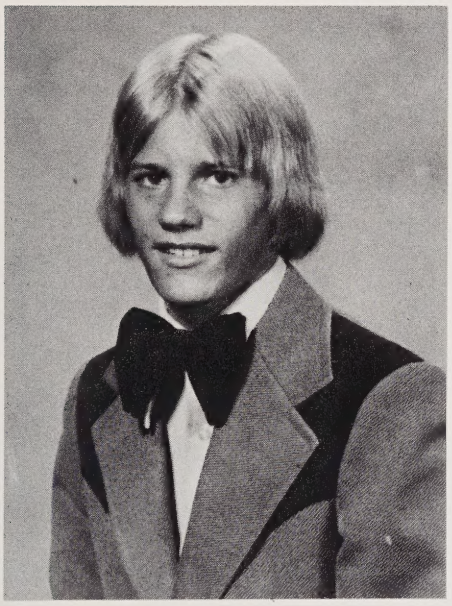
Seniors remember a friend



Michael Richmond Barnhardt
October 21, 1957
November 25, 1973

People talking without speaking
People hearing without listening
People writing songs that voices never shared
No one dared disturb the sound of silence.

— From 'Sound of Silence'
by Paul Simon

Mike, from you we learned to speak to listen to share
to love

Recorded in MEMORIES '76 are achievements that now become part of our past. Some of us have already reached the summit of our youth. We pause at the crest where we take one final glance before we turn to follow our Vision of the Future. We leave our Legacy to those who follow.

This has been a year in which we have learned to make decisions, share responsibilities, and to use great effort in choosing the right words. Staff members became a unique group of congenial students, working diligently to create the mood that ties MEMORIES '76 together.

We are grateful for the cooperation of Mr. Howard Hurt, Principal, the faculty, and the students, who helped to make our task easier. Special recognition is due Mrs. Lucile Myers for her work and supervision in preparing the material for publication and to Mrs. Joyce Hines for subscription sales and for managing advertising, which interested merchants and boosters were so gracious to provide.

Members of the Senior Class assisted the staff in advertising. Representatives of Hunter Publishing Company were Mrs. Jo Walker, lay-out consultant, and Mr. Ed Goldston, Regional Sales Manager. Special pictures were made by Terry Jones and Ingram Studios.
